MUCH LIKE THE HUMAN RACE

Hindu Scientist Asserts Plants Can Be Made to Suffer Greatly With Their Nerves.Except in structure, plants are much like human beings, Dr. Ja-gades Chudor Bose, Hindu physicist of the Presidency college, Calcutta, informed an audience in the conservatory of Columbia university. They are distressingly nervous, the least annoyance setting them on edge.Cold weather is a nuisance to them, hot weather an affliction, and they dread electric shocks like a man condemned to the chair. In uncongenial company they become easily bored and droop with weariness, and when they can't stand it any longer they have convulsions and die in excruciating pain.On the other hand they reciprocate love and declare their happiness to those in real sympathy with them.Doctor Bose said he had learned these things and many more about plants by means of a machine with a "frictionless" needle, which he has invented. The machine enables him to feel the pulse throbs of plants and thus diagnose their condition.

BETWEEN WOMEN.

"What do you think of men wearing feathers in their hats?"
"Bad sign," declared the other lady. "The feathers are small now, I know, but they may increase in size and few families can afford to buy ostrich plumes for two."

THAT'S WHAT HE SAID.

eur that I want the limousine left

Prompt Action Will

Stop Your Cough

When you first catch a Cold (often indicated by a sneeze or cough), break it up at once. The idea that "It does not matter" often leads to serious complications. The remedy which immediately and easily penetrates the lining of the throat is the kind demanded. Dr. King's New Discovery soothes the irritation, loosens the phlegm. You feel better at once. "It seemed to reach the very spot of my Cough" is one of many testimonials. 50c. at your Might Not be Alive.

McMinnville, Tenn.—Mrs. Ocie Jett, of this place, writes: "I don't believe I would be living today, if it hadn't been for Cardui. I lay in bed 27 days, and the doctor came every day, but he did me no good.
Finally, he advised an operation, but I would not consent, and instead took Cardui. Now I am going about the house, doing my work, and even do my washing. Cardui worked wonders in my case. I am in better health than for five years." Cardui is a strengthening tonic for women, it relieves pain, tones up the nerves, builds strength. Try it. At your

FAMOUS SWORDS OF TOLEDO

Admittedly the Best in the World, There Was Little Secret in Their Construction.Many of the kings of Spain according to the finest swordmakers of Toledo certain privileges, such as exemption from certain imposts and duties appertaining to the sale of swords, the purchase of iron and steel and other primary material.The steel used by the espaderos of Madrid was obtained in an iron mine situated about three miles from Man-dragon, in the Basque provinces.According to Palomeus, a Toledan, swordmaker of the eighteenth century, it is an error to suppose that the Toledans preserved particular secrets for the tempering of their arms.
They were compelled to use the water of the Tagus, as well as the fine white sand that the river contains in its bed. This sand served for the operation of what they termed "re-frescar la calda," or cooling, for when the metal became red and commenced to throw off sparks the esp-aderos instantly sprinkled it with sand.The blade having become cherry-red, they plunged the point into a wooden reservoir full of the water of the Tagus, and, having once cooled it, they straightened it as much as was desirable.They then subjected such of the blades as had not hitherto been exposed to the fire, and when it began to redden they took it by the tongue with red-hot pincers and plunged it into sheep suet until it cooled, an operation that imparted temper to it.One famous Toledan swordmaker of whom mention is made was Julian, surnamed el Moro, or the Moor, by reason of his coming from Gramada, where he worked until the end of the fifteenth century for King Boabdil.FREE TO FARMERS
